CHIEF JOSEPH MIDDLE SCHOOL RAISES FUNDS FOR BOZEMAN HEALTH CANCER CENTER

On May 18th, students at Chief Joseph Middle School celebrated the successful conclusion of their annual week-long fundraising drive to support Bozeman Health Cancer Center and the patients it serves. On Thursday morning, Foundation EVP Jason Smith and local breast cancer survivor Christine Fisher participated in the week's closing celebration.

After Chris shared her story and spoke to how important great local cancer care is to those fighting the disease, more than half a dozen students - boys and girls alike - either shaved their heads or had their long hair cut short to benefit Locks of Love. 2017 marked the 10th year CJMS has raised funds for Bozeman Health Foundation. Over the course of the decade, students have provided more than $35,000 in charitable support.

BOZEMAN HEALTH FOUNDATION WELCOMES NEW BOARD MEMBERS

Bozeman Health Foundation is fortunate to have the support and leadership of a dedicated board of directors. We are pleased to announce the addition of two great leaders to the foundation's board: Dr. Robin Stephenson and Tim Warner, Jr. Robin was born and raised in Wayzata, MN and after college moved to San Diego where she raised her 3 children. In July 2006, she moved communications professional who grew up in Montana, a 1987 graduate of Bozeman Senior High. Throughout his career, Tim served as a senior executive at two major biopharmaceutical companies, Immunex in Seattle and Nektar Therapeutics in San Francisco. A specialist in investor relations, marketing and crisis communications, Tim worked as a Senior Vice President at APCO Worldwide and Hill & Knowlton Strategies both in Washington, DC, both global public affairs and marketing agencies. Early in his career, Tim served as Communication Director to U.S. Senator Max Baucus. Tim started his company, Plazby Solutions, LLC, serving international, domestic and Montana-based clients. He and his family moved back to Bozeman in 2015.

Bozeman Health Foundation is sad to have two board members departing this year, Scott Levandowski and Patty Hinds. Both of these individuals have devoted their time and expertise with us and we sincerely thank them for their work in support of Bozeman Health.

DISCO FEVER: A SATURDAY NIGHT CELEBRATION FOR THE ICU

On Saturday evening, April 29, 2017 more than 500 people, including many physicians, nurses and Bozeman Health caregivers, came together at MSU's Strand Union Ballrooms for our Saturday Night Celebration for the ICU. Inspired by live drive challenge contributions from the Ruth and Vernon Taylor Foundation and Intercity Radiology, we raised more than $515,000 net, a record-setting amount in support of great local healthcare. This total includes a spontaneous, anonymous gift of $100,000 from a donor who was overwhelmed by the generosity he saw in the room that night.

Our silent and live auctions were a huge success, with our mobile bidding system leading to an 11% increase in silent auction revenue over last year, despite us having fewer items on display. Thank you to the many individuals across Bozeman Health who helped make Disco Fever a success.

Mark your calendars: Next year's event will take place on Saturday, April 28!

2016 ANNUAL REPORT: CELEBRATING A GREAT TEAM, A REMARKABLE YEAR AND A SUPPORTIVE COMMUNITY

Thanks to the efforts of a great team of fundraising professionals, a truly supportive health system senior leadership team, an exceptional volunteer board of directors and many generous supporters, 2016 was a remarkable year for Bozeman Health Foundation. Together, we:

- Raised a remarkable $5.4 million in new gifts and pledges throughout the year, demonstrating the trust our donors have in Bozeman Health
- Invested more than $2.7 million of charitable funds, through visionary departments, in Bozeman Health priorities
- Saw record-breaking attendance and fundraising through Hospitality
- Successfully completed our Big Sky Medical Center campaign in support of Emergency Scenarios Training
- Received a record-shattering $339,000 in generous pledges and contributions from nearly 700 Bozeman Health employees

Helping Bozeman Health to deliver on its mission to improve community health and quality of life is an honor for all of us at Bozeman Health Foundation. Thank you to so many who do so much with such passion for a cause that saves lives and makes our region stronger for the future.

EMERGENCY SIMULATIONS PREPARE BIG SKY FIRST RESPONDERS AND BIG SKY MEDICAL CENTER

Many months of preparation went into July's mass casualty simulation at Big Sky Medical Center. Staff and volunteers 'played' victims of a bus crash while professional fire and rescue teams from the Yellowstone Club and Big Sky Fire Department came to the rescue. 'Patients' were then taken to the ER at Bozeman Health Big Sky Medical Center for triage and medical care.

Dr. Phil Hess, ER physician, shared afterward, "this simulation was not about patient care, but rather how we work together and communicate in a crisis." The participants were debriefed after the simulation, and will continue to analyze what went well as well as opportunities for improvement.

Charitable funds brought these important simulations to Big Sky; special thanks to the Yellowstone Community Foundation and generous local donors!

GENEROSITY IMPROVES ACCESS AND PATIENT CARE

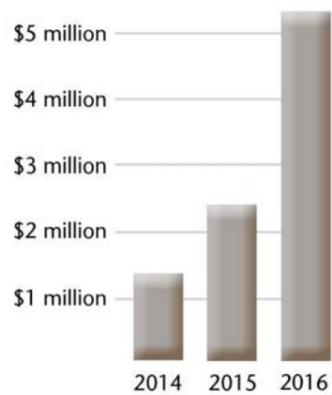

Each day, Bozeman Health's Cancer Center provides vital oncology and infusion services to a rapidly growing number of community members. Thanks to the extraordinary generosity of two local families, those who turn to us for health services during their time of need will have easier access to high quality infusion support than ever before.

Scott and Barbara Heck were inspired to apply earnings from their longstanding Cancer Care Endowment Fund and to make an additional personal pledge to bring the Cancer Center's new Infusion Annex to life. Inspired by the Heck's leadership and by the many generous donors who made memorial contributions at Becky Smith's request following her untimely passing, Stephen Smith, Jennifer Ellis and the wider Smith family then made an additional gift to name the annex's new reception area in Becky's honor.

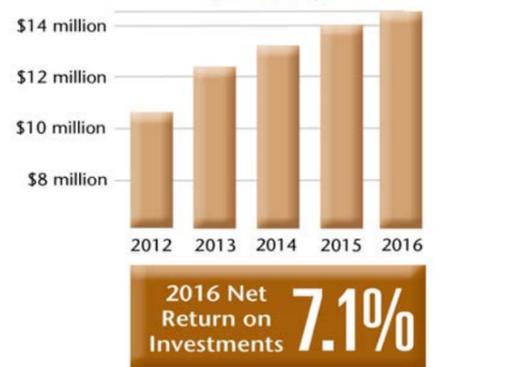

The new Infusion Annex will be located across from the Cancer Center and will add as many as seven infusion chairs. It will also feature three private infusion rooms for patients facing special challenges. Final designs are currently underway and Bozeman Health hopes to be seeing patients in the new space, funded by these two generous families, by the end of 2017.
